

Effective communication is essential to worksite emergencies

Issue: Inefficient group communication makes it difficult for organizations to quickly address and respond to worksite emergencies.

Application: Instant group communication provides emergency response teams, health services, security management and employees the ability to quickly address emergency incidents.

Recommendation: Motorola Business Two-Way Radios and accessories provide convenient and clear reception and are a critical part of your emergency preparedness programs.

- Instant group communication enables immediate emergency response when seconds count.
- Quickly coordinate personnel to respond to emergencies.
- Digital Two-Way Radio withstands harsh work environments – meets or exceeds US Military 810 C, D, E, and F standards for blowing rain, salt fog, blowing dust, vibration, shock, and temperature storage.
